

V6 e300: actual one-step responses

2 independent forced-hotspot panels; each arm restores the same model, RiemannianSGD momentum, LR and OLD BN readout buffers. Positive total depth change is outward from the shared start; positive increment is deeper than the base arm. These are different comparisons. Proxies are fixed; historical H2O momentum is retained. Batch means are not uncertainty intervals or evidence of a long-run training cause.